

THE SHEEP MEADOW PRESS

PO BOX 1345 • RIVERDALE, NY • 10471
PHONE: 718 548 5547 • FAX: 718 884 0406
EMAIL: POETRY@SHEEPMEADOWPRESS.COM

NIGHT, MORNING

Selected Poems of Hamutal Bar-Yosef

Translated by Rachel Tzvia Back

"A reasonably discerning reader of Hamutal Bar-Yosef in translation will find that although her poems are written about her life, which has been tragic and sometimes glorious, Israel, the Jews and their culture, what it means to be alive, the world—all very big subjects—her writing is such that if she were writing about a soap bubble she would be immediately recognizable as a great poet."

Stanley Moss

Hamutal Bar-Yosef has been the recipient of numerous awards, including The Jerusalem Prize for Poetry, The President of Israel Prize for Poetry and The Brenner Prize. She has been a visiting professor in Paris, Moscow and New York. She lives in Jerusalem.

Publication Date: September 2008
1-931357-55-2
$19.95

Hamutal Bar-Yosef baryosef@bgu.ac.il

