Dear Hamutal,

I hope this finds you well. Have you made any progress in looking over the proofs we sent? Any suggestions for a cover? Stanley was wont to find the perfect painting.

He also favored photographs of poets, particularly as they began to write of themselves as old, even if they weren't really old. There is old and there is old. I'm thinking of Norman Manea's cover to Paradise Found.

How about the painting in the background of this photograph of you, some 15 years ago? Perhaps you own it (and the rights)? Does the suggestion strike you as wacky?

I shared your manuscript with the newest member of the Board of Sheep Meadow Press: "amazing, spectacular!" His reaction was warmly exclamatory. No surprise!

Yours,

Greg
